

Table of Contents

Introduction Yvonne Michalik	7
Indonesian Women Filmmakers from the Early Beginnings until the Present Day Yvonne Michalik	15
“To be or not to be feminist”: Feminism, subjectivity, and women film directors in post-New Order Indonesia Novi Kurnia	29
Reaching out to a new feminist paradigm through Indonesian film by women directors Olin Monteiro	57
Pasir Berbisik and new women’s aesthetics in Indonesian cinema Intan Paramaditha	75
Dissecting the female roles in Indonesia’s post-authoritarian cinema: A study of Sammaria Simanjuntak’s Demi Ucok Ekky Imanjaya and Diani Citra	95
Perempuan di Wilayah Konflik: Voicing women in conflict areas Wiwik Sushartami	115
Christine Hakim and her role in the development of Indonesia’s post-New Order film industry Jan Budweg	141
Interview with Mira Lesmana in August 2011 Yvonne Michalik	169
Interview with Nan T. Achnas in August 2011 Yvonne Michalik	183

Experiments on short films from Bandung to the world: A conversation with Ariani Darmawan Novi Kurnia	191
Writing, documentary films, and everything in between: A conversation with Yuli Andari Novi Kurnia	213
Interview with Ucu Agustin Sofia Setyorini	233
About the authors	245